NOON DISPATCHES.

Affairs in the East.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Times' Belgrade special says, negotiations between Servia and Russia is not concluded.

Servia requires guarantee of independence, and the promise of extension in the territory, in the direction of Bosnia. The Russian Envoy awaits further instructions. Vienna political correspondence alleges negotiations concluded.

NOTE—The real explanation of these contradictory reports, probably is that Servia is waiting until she is able to interfere with the least danger and the most profit.

PESTH, October 9.—Pestler Lloyds states under reserve that the Prince of Reuss, German ambassador to the Porte, has been instructed to declare the Turkish blockade of the Black Sea ports insufficient, and therefore void.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, October 9.—Senator McDonald concludes a card in relation to his pair with Senator Morton thus: "To my political friends who may feel solicitous as to my future course, I will say that I have entered into no obligation and taken no pledge that in the least degree interferes with the full and faithful discharge of my duties as a democratic Senator."

A delegation of prominent colored people called on the President yesterday, in the interest of Gen. T. Warren Chester for the Liberian mission. The ambition of prominent colored people seems to be to send each other abroad.

Suffering at Port Royal.

NEW YORK, October 9.—A despatch from the mayor of Port Royal yesterday, says: "We are in a deplorable condition here. There are now forty-eight cases of yellow fever under treatment. One death has occurred since last night. We are in want of food and nourishment and means to procure nurses for the sick. There are not enough convalescent to care for the sick.

Miners Resuming.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct 9.—Yesterday at a meeting of the miners employed by the Susquehanna Coal Company at Nanticoke, men by unanimous vote decided to resume work. They will receive 10 per cent in advance.

Operations will begin as soon as the miners can be put in order.

FRANCE.

Governmental Espionage.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The government on Monday detained all packets of English and Belgian newspapers arriving at Paris railway stations.

Earthquake at Geneva.

LONDON, October 9.—A special to the Daily News from Geneva says, a severe earthquake was experienced there Monday morning. Some buildings were cracked, but the damage was slight.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

Cotton Reports.

GALVESTON, October 8.—The Cotton Exchange crop report is as follows: Character of the weather since September 1st has been favorable in fifty-four counties and unfavorable in seven. There has been no additional damage to the crop by the worms since the last report. Picking is progressing rapidly. Half the crop is already picked. The yield, compared with that of last year, points to a decrease of at least 25 per cent.

SAVANNAH, October 9.—Ninety-three replies from fifty-five counties in Georgia reports that in the early part of the month the weather was dry and warm, the balance rainy with a heavy wind storm for three days, 18th, 19th and 20th in the southwest portion of the State. The wet season caused in some sections a new growth, but it is too late for any benefit to be derived therefrom. There is little or no damage from worms, but the rain and wind injured the quality, and portions of the cotton open in the field have been beaten out and destroyed. The principle complaint seems to be from rust. This is very general over the State. Picking progressed rapidly up to the middle of the month. Since then little progress has been made. All the replies indicate that we must expect a less yield than last year.

In some sections the plant is in no condition to make any more, while in others it is growing well and making every day. On such crops so much depends upon the immediate season that is ahead of us, and the time that king frost appears, that no correct or even approximate per centage and decrease as compared with last year can be given in this report.

FLORIDA—Twenty-five replies from thirteen counties report the first part of the month dry and favorable the last 15 days incessant rains, accompanied by high winds, preventing the gathering of crops. Much has been beaten out and destroyed, and the quality of that open and remaining in the fields much injured. The rainy season has had the effect of causing the plant to take a second growth and throw off fruit to bring forward the worm and to increase the rust. A month ago there was fine prospect in this State, and a much larger yield than last year was looked for. The damage now from worms, rust and storms is estimated at 15 to 20 per cent. The farmers had to make good progress in picking up to the date the storms commenced. During the wet weather work was suspended and much of the cotton open in the fields during this bad spell has been lost. It is difficult at this time to estimate either the yield or how the yield or how the yield of this crop will compare with that of last year. The seasons up to the middle of September were more favorable than the last, with a larger acreage. There was a prospect of gathering a larger crop than the last. It is fair to estimate that with good weather the balance of the season that the yield of this State will not fall below that of last year.

NORFOLK—The Cotton Exchange report the condition of the cotton crop as follows: Thirty replies from 18 counties in North Carolina and Virginia, all replies report weather during September very rainy and stormy to injury of the plant. Considerable damage is reported owing to recent storms, some from rust and not very little injury if any from worms. Progress in picking much retarded, being from ten to twelve days behind last year, owing to the recent bad weather. The yield this year will be, on an average, about 175 to 200 pounds of lint cotton to the acre as compared with last year. The yield is considered by a few to be about the same or perhaps a little better, while the majority of replies report a decrease in the yield of from 25 to 40 per cent.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, October 9.—The secret service of the Treasury is to be made a bureau and report direct to Sherman instead of through Rayner.

Waifs from Ohio show that the workingmen are drawing inordinately from the Republicans. Stanley Matthews' friends are greatly scared.

There was a full Cabinet to-day except Sherman, who is voting in Ohio.

Mrs. Hayes has returned from a short visit to New York, where she went to consult the milliners regarding decolette.

Judge Woods of the fifth or Southern circuit of the Federal Court, is more strongly recommended from his circuit than any other candidate for the vacant seat on the Supreme bench.

The Star, in its sensational column, says: The combination against Randall was effected this afternoon. The parties to it are Messrs. Morrison, Cox, Sayler and Blackburn. Goode has been telegraphed to to know if he will enter into it. The proposition is to agree upon some one candidate whose name is to be presented as against Randall and none other named. Sayler has telegraphed that he will place his interests in the hands of Hon. E. John Ellis, of Louisiana. Blackburn, of Kentucky, names Hon. Wm. Springer, of Illinois. Morrison names John B. Clark, of Missouri. Mr. Cox has not yet selected a friend, and Goode has been urged by telegraph to name a Northern man. He will arrive here to-morrow. After the umpires have been selected they will select a candidate, and the understanding is that whomsoever the conference agrees upon, the others are to retire from the field.

Nothing Certain from Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 9.—The day has been pleasant throughout the State, which is usually considered favorable to the Republicans, but the fair weather is offset by the apathy and withdrawal of republican votes to the workingmen and greenback tickets. The returns coming slowly indicate democratic gains. In the compilation of the vote no account is taken of greenback or workingmen's vote, although the latter is said to have polled a heavy vote in Hamilton county. The comparison as to the democratic or republican gains will be made with the vote for Secretary of State in October, 1876.

Returns from 70 voting precincts scattering throughout the State, but not including many from cities, show Democratic gains of 1,700.

LATER.

WASHINGTON, October 9.—Private dispatches indicate that Ohio has gone Democratic.

Obsequies of the Late Bishop Bayley.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.—Obsequies of the late Archbishop Bayley took place this morning at the Cathedral, attended by thousands of persons. the prelates present were Cardinal McClosky, Archbishops Wood of Philadelphia, Williams of Boston, Bishops Gibbons of Richmond and Coadjutor of Baltimore, Laughlin of Brooklyn, O'Reilley of Springfield, Mass., O'Hara of Scranton, DeGolsbrand of Burlington, Vermont Becker of Wilmington, Shannahan of Harrisburg, McNirny of Albany, Gross of Savannah, Foley of Chicago and Lynch of Charleston.

FRANCE.

Counting the Republican Chickens.

PARIS, October 9.—The ministerial papers announce that of the 363 Republican seats the winning by the Government of 117 is very probable indeed, almost certain while in 40 more the prospects are favorable, so that the Government will have a majority of at least 20. The left, however, still rest confidently on a majority.

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, October 9.—For the South Atlantic States warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, variable winds, mostly from the southeast stationary or higher pressure.

OHIO DEMOCRATIC!

The lateness of the hour at which the press dispatches were received last night preclude the possibility of publishing them without losing the mail, but the whole tenor of the news from Ohio indicates that the State has gone Democratic—some of the dispatches say—from 10,000 to 15,000.

An Indian Bridegroom's Forfeit.

An Oregon paper prints the following: "A novel marriage took place among the Lummi Indians at the Puyallup ferry last Sunday. A handsome young maiden had been promised to a young man who was then ready to claim his own. According to a custom usual among the Indians in former days, the brave young buck was obliged to sacrifice some property before he could take the maiden to his own wigwam. He presented her parents with four large canoes, $150 in money, a rifle, two shot-guns, other implements of war, and a number of other articles. These valuables will be returned to the young couple when the husband has proved to the satisfaction of his parents-in-law that he is worthy of the maiden whom he has taken to wife."

The Mobile Register says the naval stores trade of that port supports fully twenty thousand people. The country which produces these naval stores is confined to that belt of piny woods that lies in the immediate vicinity of the city. The opening of turpentine orchards has demonstrated the fact that no better soil for grapes or fruits can be found; grazing is good throughout the entire year, and with moderate fertilizing these lands will yield abundant crops of grain, cotton and rice, so that by the time the trees in his neighborhood have exhausted themselves, the naval store man finds himself the owner of a nice farm without knowing it.

Early Incidents in the History of Carteret County.

To the Editor of the News:

SIR—Eastern North Carolina presents to the student and intelligent citizen an almost illimitable field for historical research and information touching her early days. Tradition has preserved much which should be perpetuated in some tangible form, ere fleeting time shall blot from human memories the interesting events consigned to their care for transmission to succeeding generations of men. Very much has been forever lost, and many an hiatus will ever remain unfilled in making up the history of this section of the State. Let us save what we can, by bringing to light all the events we possibly can that will tell the story of our early days, and of the men who laid the foundation-stone of our civilization, religion and freedom on these virgin shores.

CARTERET COUNTY.

The tier of counties on the seaboard and in its immediate vicinity are rich in incidents and events which will furnish the enquiring mind with food for profitable thought and reflection. Carteret county has a line of sea-coast of seventy-five miles; and Wheeler tells us, "to this county belongs the honor of having been seen by the first adventurers to these United States." This was by Phillip Amidas and Arthur Barlow, on the 4th of July, 1584, during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and nine days before the colony committed to their care planted foot on Roanoke Island. As the historian, Hawks, connects the attempt of the English to settle the island with the history of Carteret, I will advert to the most melancholy incident in that great enterprise.

THE LOST COLONY.

In the year 1590, White, the Governor of Roanoke Island, returned from over a year's visit to England to search for his colony. It had disappeared; it could not be found. White simply discovered written on the bark of a tree the word Croatan. Where was this place of refuge, Croatan? The peninsular in Tyrrell county bearing that name has long worn the honor, but Dr. Hawks does not concur in this common belief. He thinks it was "an island on the coast, and no part of the mainland; for the first news of the arrival of Drake's fleet came to Lane from the man whom he had placed there to keep a lookout seaward for the expected supply ships. The approach of vessels could not have been seen from Tyrrell." Now, as to its locality, the Doctor says: "It is best settled by the ancient maps of North Carolina. According to the old chart of 1666, on which the name first appears, as well as on an old German map of Nuremburg, Croatoan (now written Croatan) seems to have been some portion of the banks lying between Cape Lookout and Cape Hatteras; perhaps the part now known as Borden's Banks, lying between Old Topsail inlet and Bogue inlet, on the modern maps, having Bogue Sound immediately north of it, and was in what is now the county of Carteret." On later maps Croatoan, or rather Croatan, is located opposite Roanoke Island. The Indian name of Tyrrell county, as it appears "on the map of Amidas and Barlow, the first ever made of the country, is Dasamonguepeuk." And further, the northeast point of Croatan was said to lie along the beach in latitude thirty-five and a half degrees, which would make its northern boundary about twelve miles north of Cape Hatteras, and several miles south of the place latterly designated as Croatan.

Any one acquainted with the geography of this section of the State must at once perceive that Dr. Hawks has inadvertently fallen into an error when he describes Croatan as located on Borden's Banks, now called Bogue Banks. This would not tally with the description that places it between Cape Hatteras and Cape Lookout, and would seemingly throw it too far south. Nowhere, however, does he locate Croatan on the main land, but describes it as being on the coast; a long strip of land, or islands, embraced in the counties of Dare, Hyde and Carteret. On one of the old maps to which the Doctor refers, I have seen it marked on Core Banks, in the vicinity of Cape Lookout.

As pertinent to this subject, I would say, there are to-day names in this county corresponding with those of the lost colony.

It is not my purpose in behalf of Carteret, to lay claim to Croatan as part of her territory, but principally to incite, if I can, a spirit of inquiry into this matter, in order that all the light may be thrown on this subject which the most searching investigation can possibly elicit. We wish only to claim what can be established as fairly belonging to us. In the meantime we furnish the highest authority in our favor. Public attention is particularly directed to Hawks' History of North Carolina, vol. 1, pages 100, 202 and 203.

EARLY SETTLEMENT.

That Carteret was settled by the English at an early date, admits of no doubt. She presented many inducements to draw emigration within her borders. It was more convenient to reach her by water facilities than any other point on the coast. The sounds and rivers were filled with oysters, clams, and fish of the finest varieties, while countless wild fowl were found in all directions. The primeval forest abounded with game, and the means of subsistence were readily at hand. These were advantages of the first importance to settlers in building up a new country. Hence they made their homes where nature favored them most. In 1707, French Huguenots came into this and the adjoining counties to aid in the improvement of the country. A good class of people had come here; their settlement along the water courses had become a success; other emigrants were joining them, and with the advancing footsteps of time they commenced to flourish, and saw a growing future before the county.

INDIAN HOSTILITIES.

In September 1711, the Tuscaroras and other tribes of Indians commenced a bloody and destructive war against the white settlements of Eastern North Carolina. Much property and many lives were sacrificed. The Core Indians were very troublesome to the people of Carteret. In 1712, a fort was built on Core Sound, called Fort Hyde, in honor of Gov. Hyde, to protect the inhabitants against the savages. An expedition was also fitted out to scour Pamplico and Core Sounds to suppress hostile demonstrations along their shores, which it successfully accomplished. Tradition informs us that Fort Hyde was located in the vicinity of Hall's Point, Hunting Quarters, where the Indians were exceedingly unfriendly and aggressive. In 1713, Col. Moore closed the war, by marching into Carteret "and completely subduing the remaining force of Core Indians" in a battle near the residence of that respected octogenarian James Ward, Esq., about one mile from the town of Beaufort. Here within the distinct sound of our Sabbath bells, occurred the last struggle of the red man for dominion over his native soil, which he could not hold.

RELIGION.

The Church of England was not unmindful of her duties to the colonies. History and tradition tell us of her work. Many of her old landmarks have stood within the recollections of the present generation. She sent her missionaries out to the remotest settlements. Doctor Hawks informs us that in 1720, the Rev. Mr. Taylor of the established Church, "left Pamlico to visit Core Sound, in his own boat, and with his own crew; that he had a considerable amount of money; that he landed on Harbor Island and never left it alive. The story told was, he perished from cold, but none of the crew perished. The authorities suspecting he had been murdered, instituted enquiries, but could discover nothing of his fate, nor obtain the money he was known to have had with him." Harbor Island is at the mouth of Core Sound, about thirty-five miles from Beaufort.

In 1742, St. John's Episcopal Church was established in Beaufort, and lay-readers sent to different parts of the county. Some of the frame work of the old building can now be seen, composing in part the work shop of Mr. James T. White. Thus religion walked hand in hand with the early settlers of this county. They felt a holy interest in it. In 1774, Mr. David Lewis died, and left £100 to build an Episcopal Church; others subscribed £10 each, and a tax was levied on the county to increase the fund. It is supposed the revolution interfered with the prosecution of this work.

TOWN OF BEAUFORT, &c.

Beaufort has a corporate existence anterior to that of the county of Carteret. The county was incorporated in 1738; the town was chartered in 1723, and had at that time but three sisters, Bath, Edenton and Newbern. The wooden building erected in 1724 for a court house, is still standing, and is occupied as a private residence by Mrs. Mary Cramer. The present population of the town is about 2800.

In February, 1753, a town was established on Core Banks, called Portsmouth, and an appropriation of £200 made to erect a fort there, to which the name of Granville was given. Portsmouth is not now a body incorporate, and the old fort has long since been submerged by the encroaching waters.

THE REVOLUTION.

During the Revolution an expedition was fitted out here to proceed by water to South Carolina, to punish some Tories living along the coast. The expedition returned here with a number of negroes captured from the Tories, some of whom were here within the memory of many of our present citizens, who have heard the fate of their capture from their own lips. British cruisers frequently hovered along our coast. A fort was constructed at a point on Cape Lookout Bay, in order to annoy English men-of-war that would often repair there in stormy weather, on account of the excellent shelter it afforded from severe winds blowing from nearly all quarters. Old Topsail Inlet was open to the enemy, and Beaufort completely at their mercy. On the 24th of April, 1782, British sailors took possession of the town, but with the exception of cutting open a few feather beds in searching for treasure, no other depredations were committed. The records of the courts were not disturbed, nor were the regular quarterly sessions of the courts interrupted, as in a later rebellion, when the dogma prevailed, that "in the midst of arms laws are silent."

CONCLUSION.

I will close this communication with the Revolution, and will here remark that I have endeavored to avoid as far as possible, matters upon which I have touched in previous letters to the NEWS. I may hereafter say something in continuation of this subject to a later date, but my consumption of your space has been sufficiently liberal on the present occasion. W. V. G.

Texts from the Talmud.

If thy wife be small, bend down to her, and speak to her; do nothing without her advice. Everything in life can be replaced; thy wife of early days is irreplaceable. An honorable man honors his wife; a contemptible one despiseth her. The loss of a first wife is like the loss of a man's sanctuary in his lifetime.

Where an Acorn Sprouted.

Out on the Indian Valley road, in Nevada, there is a pine tree, with a diameter of nearly two feet, in which is an oak limb growing which has already attained a considerable length and a diameter of three inches. It does not seem to thrive in its strange quarters. The theory is that an ocorn by some means got lodged in the bark of the pine tree, and dust settled around it in sufficient quantities to make it sprout, and that it gradually became a part of the tree itself.

The Goldsboro Messenger says: The time for the State Fair is very near at hand. We are glad to note such a fine premium list and that so many outside the borders of our State are numbered on it. VEGETINE

IS MY FAMILY MEDICINE

I WISH NO OTHER.

PROVIDENCE, April 7, 1876.

MR. H. R. STEVENS.

Dear Sir: When I was about eight years of age a humor broke out upon me, which my mother tried to cure by giving me herb-teas, and all other such remedies as she knew of; but it continued to grow worse, until finally she consulted a physician, and he said I had the Salt Rheum and doctored me for that complaint. He relieved me some, but said I could not be permanently cured, as the disease originated in the blood. I remained a great sufferer for several years, until I heard of and consulted a physician who said I had the Scrofulous Humor, and if I would allow him to doctor me he could cure me. I did so, and he commenced healing up my sores, and succeeded in effecting an external cure; but in a short time the disease appeared again in a worse form than ever, as Cancerous Humor upon my lungs, throat and head. I suffered the most ——— pain, and there seemed to be no remedy, and my friends thought I must soon die, when my attention was called, while reading a newspaper, to a Vegetine testimonial of Mrs. Waterhouse, No 304 Athens street, South Boston; and formerly residing in South Boston, and being personally acquainted with her and knowing her former feeble health, I concluded I would try the Vegetine. After I had taken a few bottles it seemed to force the sores out of my system. I had running sores in my ears, which for a time were very painful; but I continued to take the Vegetine until I had taken about twenty-five bottles, my health improving all the time from the commencement of the first bottle, and the sores to heal. I commenced taking the Vegetine in 1872, and continued its constant use for six months. At the present time my health is better than it ever has been since I was a child. The Vegetine is what helped me; and I most cordially recommend it to all sufferers, especially my friends. I had been a sufferer for over thirty years, and until I used the Vegetine I found no remedy. Now I use it as my family medicine, and I wish no other.

MRS. B. C. COOPER,
No. 1 Soy street, Providence, R. I.

Vegetine has never failed to effect a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Vegetine.

The range of disorders which yield to the influence of this medicine, and the number of defined diseases which it never fails to cure, are greater than any other single medicine has hitherto been ever recommended for by any other than the proprietors of some quack nostrum These diseases are Scrofula and all Eruptive Diseases and Tumors, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, and Spinal Complaints and all inflammatory symptoms, Ulcers, all Syphilitic diseases, Kidney and Bladder diseases, Dropsy, the whole train of painful disorders which so generally afflict American women, and which carry annually thousands of them to premature graves—Dyspepsia, that universal curse of American manhood,—Heartburn, Piles, Constipation, Nervousness, Inability to sleep and impure blood.

This is a formidable list of human ailments for any single medicine to successfully attack—and it is not probable that any one article before the public has power to cure the quarter of them except Vegetine. It lays the axe at the root of the disease by first eliminating every impurity from the blood, promoting the secretions, opening the pores—the great escape-valves of the system—invigorating the liver to its full and natural action, cleansing the stomach and strengthening digestion. This must be accomplished, the speedy and the permanent cure of not only the diseases we have enumerated, but likewise the whole train of chronic and constitutional disorders is certain to follow. This is precisely what Vegetine does; and it does it so quickly and so easily that it is an accomplished fact almost before the patient is aware of it himself.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

The Jackson (Miss.) Pilot, a rabid Republican journal, has suspended.

Notwithstanding the severe frost of last winter, it is said the orange crop of Florida will be larger than ever before.

Judge Mackey, of South Carolina says: "The condition of the public roads measures the civilization of the country."

A Louisiana paper urges John H. Reagan, of Texas, for the Speakership. He was Postmaster-General of the Confederacy.

A Richmond criminal who heard William M. Evarts speak at Lynchburg, says he didn't utter a sentence that was shorter than ten years.

Col. Armstrong, the new Missouri Senator, is said to be an earnest advocate of a Government subsidy to the Southern Pacific Railroad.

It is ascertained that one member of the Louisiana Returning Board has not been provided with a Federal office. This is an unpardonable oversight.

Babcock and Hallet Kilbourne are among the incorporators of the Washington Republican. The old ring is running that paper. "Bab" knows how to "push things."

A man committed suicide at St. Louis Monday night. He was a candidate for re-election, and the excitement of the canvass led to the temporary insanity, during which he shot himself.

An examination of the records and expressed opinions of Senators on the Louisiana case, indicates that Kellogg will almost certainly be rejected, and Judge Spofford probably admitted to his seat in the Senate.

The Augusta Chronicle learns from Governor Hampton that Hayes has promised to make a Southern tour during the winter, and will visit Savannah, Augusta, Charleston, Columbia, New Orleans and other cities.

Atlanta negroes doubt whether it was Mr. Hayes who came to that city. Others say that it was he, but he had sold out to the Democrats for two million dollars; a white preacher who was in Washington at the time told them so.

The building has been completed and the machiney placed for a new cotton mill at Savannah, Ga. It will have seven thousand three hundred spindles and one hundred and twenty-three looms, and will be exempt from taxation.

Pinchback, with other colored lights, is agitating the mixed-school question again. In a speech at a meeting held to consider the subject, in New Orleans, Thursday, Pinchback assailed Hayes, and charged him with violation of his pledges to the South.

The Moffet liquor register law shows that the people of Richmond, Va., have for the past seventeen days drank either fermented or alcoholic liquors at the rate of 15,444 drinks a day. Temperance reformers in Virginia ought soon to be posted on the cities ripest for the harvest.

STATE NEWS.

The Cape Fear River rose fifty feet at Fayetteville, and destroyed 75,000 bushels of corn along the banks.

The Inferior Court of Rowan, F. E. Shober presiding, has thus far sent eleven to work on the railroads.

Charlotte Observer: It is stated that the Catawba river was very high yesterday, completely flooding its banks.

There are now eight active Granges in Mecklenburg county, with a prospect of forming two or three more at an early day.

Mr. Burwell W. Baker, recently of South Carolina, has become associate editor of that excellent weekly, the Union Express.

Goldsboro Messenger: Our city is becoming all life and bustle. Cotton is coming in very fast, trade is reviving and all things look encouraging for a good fall trade.

Now that Col. L. L. Polk, our Commissioner of Agriculture, has established a permanent museum in Raleigh, the farmers of the various counties should send him specimens of all their finest products and ores.

The Methodists of Mooresville, intend building a church of their own in that place, and the Biblical Recorder says: "Until the completion of it, the Presbyterians have kindly offered the use of their church building for services twice a month."

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Margaret J. Preston, the poetess, at Lexington, Virginia.—Phil. Times.

This is news to the relatives and friends of Mrs. Jackson in this State where she lives. They were not aware that she had a sister by that name.—Southern Home.

Goldsboro Messenger: The rains of the past week have been very heavy and great damage has been done to the crops. The damage to cotton by beating it out and getting it dirty, has been considerable, while peas and potatoes have suffered greatly. The corn on the low lands has been badly damaged.

Newbern Nut Shell: Sportsmen in Newbern now retire early in order to get up in time for the early bird and the industrious squirrel. A profitable business is being carried on in that line. We were informed a day or two since by a young man of this city that he went out one day last week and killed nine squirrels in a short time. A farmer living near Croatan has already killed three fine deer this season.

[We get the above four items from the Southern Home, also the two following:]

A little weazen-faced Yankee from Pennsylvania, offered $800 cash down, to be allowed the privilege of running a wheel of fortune during Fair week. It was refused him. The managers of the State Fair served the fakir right. To allow such desperate characters in the grounds would break down any exposition. It killed the Fair here.

Dr. J. T. Dent, who killed young Leckie, of Columbia, S. C., and a student of Davidson College, an account of which was given some weeks ago, has been acquitted on the ground of self defence. It is said that the sympathies of the community where the trial took place were with Leckie's family, but as it was proven that Leckie had a whip in his hand at the time of the killing, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty of murder.

Monroe Enquirer: Why not the C. C. Railway and the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line run an excursion train from Charlotte or this place to Raleigh, during the State Fair, via Hamlet? We believe it would be well patronized, and beg leave to call the matter to their attention. The time is short, and if anything is done in this direction it must be done promptly.

Lincoln Progress: Mr. J. M. Coffin, supervisor of convicts on the Chester and Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad, informs us that the grading on the above-named road was completed to the Carolina Central last Friday. The Narrow Gauge road intersects the Carolina Central about a mile from town, and its road-bed will be used by the Narrow Gauge from the intersection to the former's depot. Work will be begun on the line from here to Newton in a few days, as the convicts, we learn, have been turned over to Catawba county.

Goldsboro Messenger: We regret to learn that a very serious accident occurred near Lenoir Institute on last Wednesday. The particulars are as follows: Mr. John L. Hardy, Sr., brother of S. P. Hardy, had been to La-Grange, and while there had purchased a barrel of pork, which he was carrying home in a wagon. When in about one hundred yards of his home it seems that the wagon ran over a stump, throwing both Mr. Hardy and the pork out, the barrel falling on his head, crushing it into the earth and killing him instantly. Mr. Hardy leaves an invalid wife and seven children to mourn his loss.

THE TARIFF SYSTEM.

Now that the South has regained its power in the National Government, it is time to set about procuring legislation beneficial to our part of the Union. The present tariff system needs to be repealed or modified. As it stands, it puts an enormous tax on the producing elements of the country, for the benefit of the manufacturers. Or, in brief, the South and West are sacrificed to New England and the Middle States. We have been forced, under the operations of this pernicious and unjust system, to buy New England manufactures when we could have purchased cheaper and better goods from foreign countries, if it were not for the heavy import duties laid.

The tariff was established a half century ago for the protection of home industry. What sort of home industry? Why, manufacturing industry; not farming. No, the South was the farming section; New England the manufacturing. It was of national importance to a Lowell shoemaker that his industry should be protected against competition with foreign shoes; but it was of no national consequence that a Southern planter should be compelled to buy the Lowell shoe when he might have purchased a cheaper and better article in England, but for the heavy import duty laid by the American Congress. In consequence of such partial legislation, the Lowell shoemaker has grown richer year after year, and the Southern planter grows poorer and poorer. Our industries are daily burdened to enrich those of New England. This should not be so. It is unjust that the South, which owing to the character of its population, can never engage as extensively as New England in the business of manufacturing, (cotton factories excepted) should pay increased duties on foreign importations for the encouragement of this species of industry.

For fifty years the United States government has been operated in the interest of capitalists and manufacturers, at the expense of laborers and producers. As a consequence one part of the Union has enjoyed year after year of glorious prosperity, while the other section, more fertile, more blessed in climate, and richer by far in natural wealth, has gradually retrograded; and instead of marks of cheerful and successful industry visible on every countenance, gloom and despondency are seen.

What the South and West most need is higher prices for the productions of their wheat-fields and corn-fields, and for their cotton and tobacco. The tariff system was intended to stimulate the manufacturing interests. The wisest statesmen advocated that system. It bore its legitimate fruit. It made the United States independent of the world, in manufactures. It accomplished what it was designed for. Now, the condition of things is reversed. It is not the manufacturing interests that need stimulation, such as protection affords. The agricultural interests should now be fostered. The country is suffering from over-production of cereals and cotton, as well as from an inordinate growth of manufactures; and the real, urgent need, in order to bring relief, is larger consumption.

The farmers have for years been producing more than our people can consume. They must seek foreign markets for their cotton, tobacco and grain. To reach these markets, except in the present limited unsatisfactory way, we must trade with foreign nations; we must take their products for ours. But this can never be done under the present protective tariff.

It is impracticable, of course, to effect an immediate repeal of all tariff laws, for the government must have revenue; but legislation can be directed towards a strictly revenue tariff, so as to break down the Chinese wall of separation between our products and foreign markets, erected fifty years ago to protect new England's manufacturing interests. This can be done, and we shall feel that the American Congress is of little practical value to the material interests of the country, if it fails to address itself earnestly to this great question.

THE MEXICAN TROUBLES.

The Mexican question is assuming a serious aspect. The Mexicans are daily trespassing upon American soil, committing depredations and violating existing treaties. The opinion is fast gaining ground that the only indemnity and safety the United States can get is to be had with the rifle. Pursuing the predatory bands who infest the Rio Grande is a waste of time and money. The Mexican government should be held responsible for the aggressions and losses.

The Texas border people are entitled to protection; they are Southern people; it is the duty of the Federal government to interpose in their defence, even if it involves a brush with Mexico.

If the Canadians were to raid into New York or Maine and destroy property, the Cabinet would hardly fail to employ the Federal army and the whole Northern militia, if necessary, to stop it, and that in quick time. The Texians are as much entitled to protection as the people of New York or Maine.

By all means, these raids into this far Southern State should be put an end to—at any cost to the nation. What is the American government for, if not to protect the lives, persons and property of its citizens, native or adopted, at home or abroad, in Maine or in Texas? The outrages should cease, though it be necessary that the whole power of the national government be invoked to accomplish it.

THE Virginians are wrestling with the public debt question. Ex-Governor Walker, some nights ago, spoke in Richmond on this all-engrossing subject over the border. He took the ground that the debt was honestly contracted and is justly owed; that the Virginians enjoy the internal improvements constructed with the money borrowed; that the funding bill of 1871, was a wise and fair measure, and if it had been carried out faithfully the State would not now be involved in the present financial troubles; that readjustment is a delusive phantom; that by Constitutional assessments of property and proper economy the State can meet its liabilities without raising the rate of taxation, and that Virginia's only hope of prosperity is in preserving her credit and inviting capital. The distinguished speaker wields considerable influence, and no doubt represents in these views a large part of the Virginia people.

IT should not be forgotten that the present "hard times" are due to the past recklessness and extravagance of the Republican administration during the sixteen years of their control of public affairs. At the close of the war the public debt was $2,600,000,000, and in the eleven years succeeding $4,400,000,000 had been extracted from the people by taxation, and yet after its absorption in the treasury the debt remained $2,200,000,000. These figures are had on the authority of Senator Whyte, of Maryland.

WORK for Southern Congressmen—have the test-oath requirement repealed. It is a standing insult to ex-Confederates, and should be wiped from the statute books. Its abrogation would constitute another step towards that perfect day of reconciliation which all patriotic men desire to see.

Junction of the R. & A. Air Line and C. C. Railways.

HAMLET, N. C., Oct. 6, 1877.

To the Editor of the News:

SIR—I trust that an item from our flourishing little town among the sand hills, the healthiest among the healthy lands of the State, will be read with interest by your numerous readers.

There is in course of erection a large and commodious dinner house, being built by our energetic and liberal-hearted townsman, Mr. Shortridge, who will furnish dinner for trains on the C. C. R. R. going both east and west. Can guarantee any one stopping a square meal in every respect. There are also two dwellings in course of erection, one to be occupied by our agent of the R. & A. A. L. R. R., Mr. Wyatt, formerly stationed in the warehouse at Raleigh.

400 bales of cotton passed to-day from Atlanta via the R. & A. A. L. to Norfolk, thence to be forwarded to Liverpool. Something like business.

SUBSCRIBER.

A German editor, who has recently crossed the Atlantic, made certain scientific observations on board the steamer. A bottle of champagne was let down into the deep, and when it was pulled up it contained nothing but sea-water, although the cork was still imbedded in the neck of the bottle with the fastenings unbroken. The philosopher at once explained that the pressure forced the sea-water in through the pores in the cork and drove out the light, sparkling champagne. It was an excellent illustration, he added, of the extraordinary pressure to which the Atlantic cable was subjected at the bottom of the sea.

MISCELLANEOUS.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA,
CHAPEL HILL, Sept. 25, 1877.

To the Trustees, Alumni and friends of the University of North Carolina:

The increasing prosperity of the University has created a need for a medium through which its objects should be made known. To this end the two literary societies of the University have determined to re-establish the "University Magazine," once an ornament to the University and State.

It is proposed in publishing facts connected with the University to make the Magazine the organ through which the historical incidents of the State may be made known and perpetuated. At present there is in the State no periodical of this kind and the need for one is patent to all.

The contributors of the Magazine will be some of the most prominent and talented gentlemen and ladies of the State. The Societies have elected three editors each, and as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained the Magazine will be issued.

The price of the Magazine will be $2.50, IN ADVANCE, per year.

Trustees, Alumni and friends, the students of your University call upon you to contribute this small amount to the support of an enterprise, the ends of which are so beneficial.

Those who desire to aid us will please inform us immediately by letter or postal.

Address,
EDITORS UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE,
Chapel Hill, Orange Co., N. C.

State papers friendly to the enterprise will please copy.

DR. TUTT'S PILLS

Meet the wants of those who need a safe and reliable medicine. The immense demand which has so rapidly followed their introduction is evidence that they do supply this want, and proves them to be ever furnished the American people. The highest medical authorities concede their superiority over all others, because they possess alterative, tonic, and healing properties contained in no other medicine. Being strongly Anti-Bilious, they expel all humors, correct a vitiated state of the system, and, being purely vegetable, they do not, like other pills, leave the stomach and bowels in a worse condition than they found them, but, on the contrary, impart a healthy tone and vigor before unknown.

OUR WORDS INDORSED

Dr. C. L. MITCHELL, Ft. Meade, Fla., says:

". . . . "I know the superiority of your pills, and want to see them used instead of the worthless compounds sold in this country." . . .

Rev. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky., says:

Had Sick Headache & Piles 30 Years.

". . . "I am well. Gaining strength and flesh every day." . . . R. S. Austin, Springfield, Mass.

He Defies Chills and Fever.

". . . "With Tutt's pills, we defy chills. Illinois owes you a debt of gratitude." . . .
F. R. Ripley, Chicago, Ill.

Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE

Gray hair is changed to a glossy black by a single application of this dye. It is easily applied, acts like magic, and is as harmless as spring water. Never disappoints. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

The Hand of Care.

'Tis writing in lines on thy cheeks,
'Tis weaving silver in thy hair,
And o'er thee it holds a second
On which is the word despair.
Each morning some sad thought I trace
In every line look you wear,
And well I know this sad warning change
Is written by the hand of care.

Oh, gladly would I own the power
To free thy young life to banish woe.
To fill your heart with joy again
And clear your smiles where tears now flow.
But fate has willed it so
That thy heavy cross must bear,
And helpless to avert
The blessing of the hand of care.

I know when the wine of life
Thy cheeks with rosy radiance fill'd
And in thy winsome face
Your young heart with joy was thrill'd.
Come to see the change—
The gathered brow, the whitening hair,
Yet a glad time will come
When all be free from care.
—J. E. Barrett, in N. Y. Weekly.

NEWS NOTES.

The Georgia's Superior Court Judge died this year.

A people cure snake bites with red onions.

Gen. Sherman and staff arrived at San Francisco overland from Portland.

Gen. Butler believes that something should be conceded to the sentiment of the South.

The tallest man in Indiana is Joe Bowers—not the poet. He is over six feet eight, and likes his sausage in links.

The Memphis Appeal proposes the whipping-post for tramps. Now, reasonably, what is a tramp to do with himself?

Senator David Davis, of Illinois, has fully recovered from his late illness and is understood to be ready to go to Washington and act as a warm supporter of the President's Southern policy.

Full returns from the towns of Connecticut show that the first constitutional amendment, prohibiting extra pay to public officers, was carried by 13,351 majority, and the one forbidding towns aid to railroads by 19,282 majority.

Mine Inspector Roy, of Ohio, has discovered some beautiful fossil fish in slabs of cannel coal in Jefferson county, and says that they are at least 25,000,000 years old. But, as the Cincinnati Gazette remarks, perhaps he doesn't know.

In an address at a farmers' fair in Missouri, ex-Commissioner Burdett alluded to his mysterious disappearance, and said that he had been all around the world, and that it is not so large as one would believe. Its already vast population, he said, is rapidly increasing, and "before another century passes people will be fighting for standing-room."

The advantage of the South is that a little money goes a long way in buying land and starting a farm, because there is more land than the present population can work. With a few hundred dollars an industrious settler can make a start in farming—a better start, too, all things considered, than on the far Western frontier.—New York Tribune.

This is the glorious picture which the Columbus Enquirer paints for Georgian population: "With Gen. Toombs as next Governor of the State, Gen. Gordon as his own successor in the United States Senate, and the capital again at Milledgeville, whence radicals and bayonets removed it, Georgians ought to be satisfied and happy."

The resumption act was never debated in Congress. It was passed under the gag law by the decree of a Republican caucus. When it runs the gauntlet of debate it can not endure the light. The Congress, unless otherwise instructed by the people, will peremptorily refuse the legislation without which the resumption act can not be executed.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Don Piatt says of Conkling and Evarts "While Roscoe is as vain as a silly woman, Evarts is as egotistical as a turkey cock. These two till all New York, in their estimation. Indeed, each, in the estimation of himself, resembles the Chinaman's map of the world—a circle inside a square, touching the square at four points. All inside is China—all round in the four corners the rest of the world."

Politics raged fiercely in Breckinridge county, Ky., at the last election for Assemblymen. One candidate, who was a good—or, rather, a bad—Temperar, is accused of spending money for whiskey to treat voters with, while the other set about the malicious invention that his rival had two tables set at meal times, one for himself and family and one for his servants, thus capturing the Labor Reform vote.

What's Ruining the Country.

(Charlotte Observer.)

A friend who is neither a fox hunter, fond of shooting birds, but a sensible fellow for all that, has discovered that it is bringing the country to ruin. As he was just outside the city limits he saw a wagon, to which was attached a very small and shadowy mule, sticking fast in the mud, and while the driver was making frantic efforts to extricate the mule and the beast, around him gambolled a large and splendid looking dog, apparently, had been living out of the land. "Had the money these dogs," reflected our friend, "been expended to support the mule, it would have been as fat and sleek but as anybody's mule, and the farmer would not have lost his time and religion." He is opposed to Hayes' Southern policy of pacification when it relates to dogs.

Dallas (Texas) Herald: He was a big Texan, just from the frontier, and he boarded the tram at Fort Worth for Dallas. It was his first ride on the "kers," and as the conductor reached in his hip-pocket for his punch, the sharp eye of Texas caught a glimpse of its polished handle, and quick as thought he leveled a navy six on that conductor, saying: "Put 'er up, or I'll blow daylight through you. No man can get the drop on me."

An infuriated Virginian, writing of the Virginia State debt and of the new law taxing drinks, says: "That debt shan't be saddled over my liquor. No, sir! The property holders are the ones to pay what is to be paid. If that debt is to be drunk out, it shall not be done at my expense. I won't drink. It, nor any part of it, shall be adjusted on my shoulders, while the man who never 'smiles' does not pay a cent."

Every effect must have a cause; so Boils, Pimples, etc., are the result of poor blood. Purify the blood by using Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture and banish such eruptions as those named.

Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic, a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

SAFETY BOILER WAS AWARDED THE

This Premium at Roanoke & Tar River Agricultural Society, 1875. The Gold Medal, over all other Competitors, at the North Carolina State Fair, in 1876.

It is the most perfect and economical in use. The Boiler is of new design, being vertical, yet all the heating surface is entirely covered with water, thus preventing the fire from destroying the tubes as is the case, in a few years, in all upright tubular boilers in which the fire passes through the tubes above the water line, soon destroying the exposed end of the tubes causing them to leak.

G., the rules governing the target and the scoring have been changed by Adjutant General Jones, and the "Creedmoor" target and manner of scoring have been adopted instead. The changes made will be published in the supplementary premium list of the North Carolina Agricultural Association.

The Centre of Attraction

Just now is the Dry Goods Store of Messrs. Petty & Jones. The senior partner, our genial friend Maj. Petty, seems to have used even more than his usual good taste and judgment in the selection of the immense and varied stock which now fills the three floors of the store.

Level-headed citizens show their appreciation of this attention to the requirements of our trade, by thronging the store all day.

The proprietors of the establishment, assisted by their competent and obliging assistants, are kept constantly occupied in displaying goods, which our readers may rest assured are all of the best quality obtainable. Such bargains are offered that one can't pass by without making an investment. No one can call a half hour spent in this establishment time wasted. Don't fail to give Petty & Jones a call.

Personal.

C. F. Waggoner, Sheriff of Rowan, and R. McMillan, Sheriff of Robeson, were registered at the National yesterday.

Prof. J. H. Mills, of the Orphan Asylum, passed through the city yesterday towards Rolesville, where his orphan band gave a concert last night. He picked up a little orpban that was waiting for him at the National Hotel.

Messrs. W. K. Blake, W. J. McDowell and B. Foster, of Spartanburg, S. C., were at the National yesterday. They are here for the purpose of procuring convicts to work on the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad. We learn they obtained 26, which makes up the 200 allowed by Act of the General Assembly.

Superior Court.—Fall Term, 1877.

The bastardy and criminal dockets called.

Six submissions on the bastardy docket and the usual orders in such cases made.

The court was mostly engaged in the trial the State vs. Richard Bridgers for larceny, removed from the Criminal Court. W. H. Pace and Solicitor Cooke represented the State. R. H. Battle, Jr., and Jno. Eaton Bledsoe, Esqs., for the defense. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

There were thirty-six final judgments taken on the civil issue docket. The civil docket will be taken up as indicated on calendar of yesterday.

For the Agricultural Museum.

Col. L. L. Polk, Commissioner of Agriculture, received, yesterday, a number of articles for the Agricultural Museum; among them were,

Wheat, grasses, corn, millet, oats and barley, from M. S. Robbins, of Randolph.

Corn and buckwheat, from Dr. J. T. Leach, of Johnston.

Specimens of marls, fossils, fish bones and earths; corn, wheat and rice, from H. Bourden, Esq., of Duplin.

Some very nice dried fruit, from Hall Bros., Catawba county.

County Map.

The Register of Deeds of Montgomery county has forwarded to the Agricultural Department a map of that county, in accordance with a request sent out by Col. Polk last spring. It contains the boundaries of the county and the different townships within it, location of churches, stores, mills, turnpikes and other roads, gold mines, streams, &c.

I am selling goods cheaper than ever, it is astonishing to see how low I can sell. One dollar will buy more at my store now than five would two years ago. His safety oil is the best in town.
J. C. Brewster, Hardware, &c. *

The Old House on the Corner.

It is dismantled. Its timbers, some of them still sound as a dollar, have been taken piece from piece and hauled away. It was once a goodly house for Raleigh, and the second best hotel in the place. When first built it stood an almost isolated object amid the surrounding old field and forest, as the buildings in that part of the city were few and far between.

We have sought among the "oldest inhabitants" for a history of the old edifice, and obtained the following:

The building was erected about the year 1810, by Josiah Dillard, for a hotel, (or tavern, as houses of entertainment were called in those days,) and was known as the "cross keys tavern," on account of two keys crossing each other like the treasurer's badge of a Masonic Lodge, painted on the sign that swung in front of the main entrance.

Old men's memories fail and therefore we have been unable to ascertain from the two or three of the past generation lingering among us, how long Mr. Dillard continued to dispense the hospitalities of the "cross keys," but he died, and his widow continued to keep the house open some years after his death.

The next occupants were the Misses Armstrong, two elderly maiden ladies, who continued the business for which the house was originally built. In what year they took charge of it is not known, but they were there during the building of the present State capitol, from 1833 to 1840, and some few years after, and were patronized by the architects employed on the building.

In those days there existed in Raleigh an organization known as the "Raleigh Mechanics' Association," some of the members of which are still among us; namely, John C. Palmer, C. W. D. Hutchings, Thomas R. Fentress, W. W. Holden, and perhaps others. In 1842 this association celebrated its anniversary by a big dinner, oration, &c., and the dinner was given at the old "cross keys." Gov. Morehead, then Governor of the State, with the heads of departments and a large number of invited guests, participated in the festivities of the occasion. Ex-Governor Holden was the orator of the day.

After the Misses Armstrong, the next occupant was a German by the name of Zigginfuss. He remained in it but a short time and was succeeded by Mr. William T. Bain, the father of the present excellent chief clerk in the State Treasury department. How long he kept it as a hotel is not remembered, but during his occupancy the writer of this article, then younger than he is now, visited Raleigh for the first time and stopped at this house, then known as Bain's hotel, and he remembers very well that the fare was good and the bed he slept on was sweet and clean.

After Mr. Bain left it, it stood unoccupied for a short time, and was then rented by Mr. Henry Fendt, who opened a confectionery establishment in the corner room, his family occupying the remainder of the house. This brings it down within the knowledge of the present generation, and we need not, therefore, follow it any further, but simply to state that since Mr. Fendt left it, it has remained unoccupied most of the time, and now it is gone and we shall soon see a fine new store erected on the site it so long occupied.

Dr. Grissom's "Notes on Epilepsy."

We copy the paragraph below from the Virginia Medical Monthly for October, 1877, edited by Landon B. Edwards, M. D., Richmond. The Monthly refers to the transactions of the Medical Society of North Carolina, in which appears Dr. Grissom's paper, which has gained such wide-spread reputation.

"The first paper published is notes on Epilepsey, by Dr. Eugene Grissom, of Raleigh N. C., who by his untiring energy and diligent research and magnificent papers, has established a national reputation as an Alienist. He avails himself of his abundant opportunities, as Superintendent of the Insane Asylum of North Carolina, to perfect himself in his specialty. His paper covers 32 closely printed pages, dealing especially with larvated Epilepsey. We shall content ourselves by simply recording, without comment, the conclusions arrived at by Dr. Grissom: (1) Marriage between epileptics should be discouraged. (2) When epilepsy appears, every effort should be made to abort the paroxysms, commencing at the earliest age. (3) Perseverance in treating the disease should be the rule, and not the exception. (4) The microscopy of epileptic pathology should be carefully studied as offering the best hope of ultimately reaching an accurate conception of the disease. (5) The profession should educate the public mind in relation to the proper medico-legal status of the epileptic, and especially of the sufferer from larval epilepsy. Dr. Grissom very properly favors lenient judgment of elepcic criminals in courts of Justice, when crime has been committed under the influence of an attack.

Donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, for the Premium List of the Next State Fair, Oct. 16th to 20th.

Escaped.

As Sheriff McMillan was bringing his squad of ten prisoners to the penitentiary, Monday night, one of them whose name we did not learn, slipped his hands out of his handcuffs, jumped from the train and made his escape. It was raining in torrents at the time and very dark, so it was of no use trying to catch him. He escaped while the train was standing at Lockville.

Attempted Burglary.

Mr. H. S. Doswell has recently moved into the house belonging to Mr. Perkinson, on the same lot of the one that was burned two or three weeks ago. Monday night the family were awakened by some one trying to open one of the windows. The rogue had raised the sash and accidentally let it fall and then ran. Mr. Willie Betts, who was in the house, seized his pistol and either in his agitation or his hurry, fired it off prematurely, the bullet striking a tin safe, passing through it and out through the weather-boarding.

More Prisoners Arrived.

C. F. Waggoner, Sheriff of Rowan, delivered to the penitentiary authorities yesterday twelve convicts, sentenced at the recent term of Rowan Superior Court, all colored and all for larceny; terms of from one to five years.

R. McMillan, Sheriff of Robeson, started from home with ten convicts for the penitentiary, but arrived with only nine, one having escaped at Lockville. Of the nine one was white; their crimes not mentioned; terms from one to three years.

A Compliment to Joe.

The Statesville Landmark says: "The clever editorial writing, noticeable of late in the Charlotte Observer, is said to be the work of our talented young townsman, Joseph P. Caldwell. Another talented member of the Observer staff—Mr. J. L. Chambers, is an Iredell man.

Mayor's Court.

Frances Debnam was fined $1.00 and costs for disorderly conduct on the street.

Henry Lashley, a white man for disorderly conduct in the market; cursing and swearing around generally, was fined $5.00 and costs, and that ended the docket for the day.

Meeting of the Agricultural Board.

The Board of Agriculture will hold its second quarterly meeting in the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture on Tuesday, 16th inst.

It gives me pleasure to announce that I can offer to an impartial public, goods at prices that have never yet been eclipsed in the city of Raleigh. My stock is the largest I have ever had—and I can assure my friends that I can satisfy them in all things in my line, as to quality, quantity and price. Live and let live. A. GREECH. *

A Pretty Head.

A pretty head sets off advantageously everything it is placed upon, whether a pretty woman, a cabbage stalk or a newspaper, while an ugly head will detract from the most beautiful proportions of the above, or anything else.

We saw yesterday, at the Executive office, where it was exhibited for the criticism of His Excellency, the Governor, (ex officio, President of the Board of Agriculture) the imprints of the head and subheads of the new agricultural paper, the "Farmer and Mechanic," published under the auspices of the Board. We don't know what the Governor thought of it, but we think it very pretty and appropriate, and so, we believe the public will think when the paper makes its appearance next week.

Dr. Satter's Concert Friday Night.

Remember, lovers of music, the entertainment at Tucker Hall Friday night. Of Dr. Satter's performance in Richmond, the Enquirer speaks as follows: "Dr. Gustave Satter, who so captivated the audience at the concert last week, will appear again next Friday night in a concert at Assembly Hall, under the management of Mr. Henry C. Wyatt. The great pianist is thought by many critics to be without an equal in the United States, and some place him even ahead of Rubenstein or Von Bulow. At any rate, he is a superb performer, and no one who appreciates a high style of musical art will fail to attend the concert."

Township Meeting.

The colored people of Raleigh held a meeting at the Courthouse last night to appoint delegates to the county convention which is to meet in Raleigh on the 13th. The following were appointed: Bennett B. Goins, Norfleet Jeffreys, Sr., Lewis Craven and J. C. Myatt; alternates, Ross Pettiford, George Lane, J. R. Caswell, and John O. Kelley.
